Description:

The perfect solution to activate the animation of your Halloween figures and send a cold shiver down the spine of your visitors:

The switch pad "Step Here" from Europalms can be hidden under a carpet rug, doormat or decorative fabric. It is connected to the manual control of the Halloween figure via a 195 cm long supply line and a plug connection to start the animation.

The mechanical button for triggering is located in a black foil bag with the imprint "Step Here". When using it outdoors, make sure to protect the pad from moisture.
